

Adjunct Professor Michelle Wong is the Clinical Head of the Division of Pulmonology and Consultant in General Medicine at Chris Hani Baragwanath Academic Hospital. She is a Wits graduate who qualified as a Pulmonologist in 1994. Her particular interest is in interstitial lung diseases, but she finds most topics in Pulmonology interesting and enjoys encounters with clinically challenging cases. She has been involved in drawing up guidelines for asthma, COPD and idiopathic pulmonary fibrosis. She is the Honorary Secretary for the South African Thoracic Society and has been involved in various roles in the Cert Pulm(SA) Phys examination since 2005.